Start off with a memorable one-hour ride down one of the nation's most scenic and beautiful highways, where you will experience breathtaking views of mountain ranges, hanging glaciers, ocean coastline and wildlife. Your guide will narrate highlights of the area, Alaska's history and other interesting facts on your way to Girdwood.

Once in Girdwood, you can use your $15 food voucher at the Tramway Café inside the Alyeska Resort. They offer indoor seating, or you can choose to picnic outside on the terrace which overlooks the beautiful flower gardens and pond.

After lunch we will take you to the Alaska Backcountry Access meeting point, where they will shuttle you to the trailhead of the Winner Creek Trail. You will hike a mile to the thrilling hand-tram (Girdwood's #1 attraction) which takes you 100 feet above the rushing Glacier Creek, the same creek you will soon experience in your raft. Gear up in a dry-suit, helmet, life vest, and booties to prepare for your rafting adventure. Once in your paddle raft, your guide will navigate you through fast turns and non-stop class II-III whitewater action. To add to the thrill, you will be passing by some unforgettable scenery, including cascading waterfalls flowing into the canyon.

After your invigorating rafting trip, we will take you to the Girdwood Brewing Company. There you can relax and reminisce about your adventure-filled day while enjoying a refreshing sampler paddle of their locally crafted beers, before our journey back to Anchorage.
